Global Military Coup (Follow-Up)

After a denial by the powers pulling the strings and a complicit mainstream media, what was deemed conspiracy theory that, at all cost, had to be censored, is now being posited as possibly fact. What is now no longer censored is that the so-called coronavirus, most likely, was released from the China Wuhan lab, either intentionally or accidentally, after having gone through gain-of-function research to make it highly transmissible among humans.

On the intentional front, there seems to be at least two theories over who is behind this release: the Chinese military or the World Economic Forum (paid someone to do it).

In case you don't know, the World Economic Forum, headed up by Klaus Schwab, sees the pandemic as a means to drive their dangerous agenda of a global reset. Did they orchestrate the release of this genetically modified particle as part of their strategy to cripple the global system while instilling so much fear in people that the masses will acquiesce to their plan? It's quite telling that Anthony Fauci has appeared in a PR video for the World Economic Forum and is now in the headlines with mounting evidence he apparently funded the gain-of-function research at the Wuhan lab.

One must wonder what happened behind the scenes to cause some of these perpetrators of censorship to not only lift their opposition but now embrace what they once labeled as conspiracies. We should not expect any of them to own up to their actions (or: lack thereof) that were probably part of their agenda in the first place—obfuscation is their game.

Also, I wouldn't hold your breath expecting a Biden investigation into the origin of the so-called virus getting to the real truth of the matter. The most likely outcome is they will either conclude they don't know or will deflect blame to protect the real culprits. Of course, they could take the much easier route and hold to Fauci's original line that it jumped from a bat to a human—end of case.

Obviously, there is much more to be said about this gain-of-function research and the origin of covid (and many more are now doing so). But the reason for bringing up this topic at this time is the implication of making China complicit in the release of the virus. Is it a plot to poke the Dragon? But for what purpose? If so, are we headed for unintended consequences or, worse, intentional ones to drive a global agenda?

Global Military Coup

There have been suggestions floating around for some time now that the Chinese military has been involved in bioweapons development (no surprise here; so have other nations), but now it is being openly suggested that evidence points to the military's involvement with bioweapons research at the Wuhan lab.

This leads to a word that came on August 5, 2020. Without any elaboration, I heard: Global military coup. See: postscript to Fog Lifted - Word for 2021.

Is there a coup yet to come? Or, was the pandemic of 2020-21 an attempted global military coup, not your typical coup of overtly overturning governments but of covertly altering the existing global order and power structure? Some are now suggesting this is the case, even claiming we are in World War 3 with China.

This seems to line up with a word that came in 2015—WW3 China Conflict. Are we seeing fulfillment of this word? To be sure, conflict has been brewing between China and the US, and not secretively either. Recently, a spokesperson for China suggested that if they are blamed for the pandemic, it will lead to nuclear war. Is this simply posturing or a real threat? How much poking will China accept before it kinetically strikes back?

We are in a very dangerous period in history, much like leading up to WW2. The events of 2020-2021 (so far) are simply the first salvo; the big one is yet to come.

In the meantime, as Christians, what are we to do? Well, for one, don't fear. The Lord is in this battle. However, don't become complacent either, as if life will proceed as usual—especially as some covid restrictions are lifted (of course, as long as the masses go along with the health guidelines from the “experts”)—for it won't. Great change is in the air.

After being restricted for over a year (possibly more to come later in the year), we are seeing people, especially in the US, returning to the hedonistic spirit of the world. Suggestion: rather than going the course of the world and its enticement to pleasure (hedonism), how about taking some advice from the psalmist?

Find pleasure in Yahweh (the LORD), and He shall give you the desires of your heart
(Psalm 37:4).

May those desires be to have more of the Lord Jesus in life!

Finally, know Him as your Trust! In a day in which we are more and more propagandized and coerced into trusting a failed system, it is better (actually, essential) to trust in the Lord, knowing Him as our trust or refuge, than to trust in man and his crumbling kosmos.
