September 2021—A Beginning (Word)

I have shared many insights that have come to me over the last two decades; however, I haven't shared them all, especially those that were clearly of a personal nature. Of what has been shared, there have been times when I've sort of danced around the edges, leaving some room for corrections or amendments. Perhaps, this was done with some doubt in mind. This has, in turn, recently led me to review many of the insights, both posted and unposted, with this question: Is it time to stop nipping at the edges and jump into the midst of what I know in my heart is coming? The answer is yes! Thus, I am now prepared to offer further insight that I've hesitated to offer up to this point. It is time to raise the curtain a bit!

However, before doing so, two points...

First, it's in our human nature to overly emphasize the outward or external value of things. However, God values the spiritual—that is, He looks at the spiritual or inner value of things, especially as it relates to the heart and the building up of His holy temple in spirit and in love. Stated another way, the measure of God's spiritual work is not in great numbers or charts showing progress by man's metrics. His measure is how much of the life of His Son, our Lord Jesus, is present and active. This is vital to discerning what is transpiring in the world according to God's plan. Great happenings might not be observed at first as the life of the Pattern Son grows in hearts—a few here, a few there; until the few here sense their connection with the few there and true oneness or union of the Body of Christ manifests in localities and communities as they are led by the spirit of the Lord. In this way, the glory of the Lord will begin to manifest and fill the earth. The world will begin to know the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom He sent, as it observes true Life and Love in action.

Second, many things in life and creation move in cycles with a beginning and an end. Man's history and creation's order are filled with such cycles. However, even within cycles, there may be other beginnings and ends (i.e., cycles within cycles), and cycles can overlap one another. This might be a challenge for those most comfortable with linear thinking that prefers clean, straight lines that move from one dot to another (i.e., connecting the dots). The dots take precedence over the whole. In contrast, spatial thinking looks for the whole and tries to discern it from all angles, much like putting a puzzle of many random pieces together. Of course, both kinds of thinking have their place in the order of things, just as we need logic and creativity; two corollaries to linear and spatial thinking.

The challenge for Christians today is that much eschatology seems to be dominated by linear thinking as the theologians have mapped out how events will unfold as this age comes to an end or, as erroneously taught, the world comes to an end. It should not be a surprise that I don't believe scripture presents a clearly defined series of events that go from one dot to another. There are cycles within cycles and overlapping beginnings and ends. Remember: a beginning is not an end; it is simply the start of something that must be worked out until it achieves God's desired end, even while many other beginnings and ends might be in motion.

I say this based on personal experience. As I review the insights, both posted and unposted, I see clear patterns where I was told of a beginning or a crossing-over or a launching out. In some measure, each have had certain endpoints of completion; yet, in the big picture, each is still in play. As an example, my wife and I experienced a crossing over on July 21, 2012, as we were told to look for the signs. On August 24, 2014, we were told we were crossing over again, only this time it was a seven-year journey, ending in 2021. Mind you; we were launched out into the deep on July 28, 1995 with no end date in sight, and yet, there have been significant events along the way, each being a launching out into deeper water (or: a way we haven't been before), some with ends to them. Another example is a word that came to me on August 30, 2017: The countdown to the beginning of the end has begun, signifying a beginning without identifying the end.

The point is that we need to stand back, taking a high position, in order to get the big picture and not get too caught in the weeds of distraction caused by too many details. In God's plan, there are many beginnings and ends, and yet, they all fit together into one large mosaic that ultimately will emerge as the glory of God.

With all this said, we shouldn't be looking for our Savior to come on white puffy clouds, riding on a white horse. His arrival or Presence begins on the inside of His people. This is the coming of the Lord. And, this Presence starts with the Anointing of His Body. Here is the good news: this Anointing is going to begin to openly manifest this month of September! Again, we shouldn't be looking for some sign in the sky, as in the heavens will open up and a dove will come down. The Anointing is about an open heaven, only it is heaven opened within the Lord's people. Jesus is the ladder within us that joins the earth within us with God's realm called heaven. The portal of heaven will be opened for the Lord's Body to be joined with the realm of spirit from which we will receive a continuous filling of the spirit of the Lord—thus beginning Christ \(i.e., the King\) in you, the expectation of glory.

I have stated already that we need to watch the week of September 20th; however, it is time to be more specific. On December 22, 2018, a word came to me...

September 21, 2021 is when the reset will come. You will receive the Anointing then, followed by entering My Presence.

In 2018, I had no knowledge of Man's Delusional Global Reset that is being planned. It is quite possible that evil people might try to orchestrate a world-wide reset or put a few more pieces of it into motion on this day or in this month but, given the word on the Anointing and Presence, I believe this will be the beginning of God's reset. Again, it won't be announced with huge neon signs or holograms in the sky; it will gradually be discerned across the globe by His people. The Anointing will gradually gain momentum as it goes forth throughout the earth. On May 12, 2017, I was told that the Lord's people will go forth like a cloud of witnesses raining upon the earth. This is an excerpt of what came to me.

In the midst of judgment, My clouds will awaken; they will be like clouds rising up from the sea (i.e., of the nations). They will go forth throughout the earth as the rain of My spirit. As clouds pour forth rain to water the earth, so will My people be rain to all men—the rain will quench the fire of My wrath. And so, it will be finished and the dawn of the new day will arrive. All will rejoice in that day and a new world order will manifest based on righteousness, justice, peace, and love. From the ashes of man's order will arise My glory!

Behold, He is coming with the clouds! (Revelation 1:7)

For those that might be unaware, September 21, 2021 is the beginning of the Hebrew feast of Tabernacles or Booths. As I've noted before, it is also World Peace Day.

Those following my insights know that I have repeatedly referred to a 21-Year Cycle \(2000-2021\) that has progressed from September to September (roughly) each year since the turn of the 21st century. Based on the fall feasts, technically, this cycle ended on September 6, even though our calendar has another 4 months to go. As I've reported, I was told that 2021 would be the worst year and, without doubt, by many metrics, it has proven to be so.

The number 22 signifies light. I have wondered over these last two decades whether 2022 might be a turning point as the light of God begins to manifest. Given that the Anointing begins this month, which, according to the Hebrew civil calendar begins a new year, we should expect to see the light of the world manifest, as well. The Presence of the Lord in His Anointed will manifest as the light of the world. After all; Jesus, the Light of the World, told His disciples that they (we, by extension) are the light of the world.

This is the light that will shine in the midst of deep darkness as the Lord's plan gradually progresses until evil is conquered and the nations of the world are set free from their bondage to corruption. Today, the nations are groaning under the weight of sin; however, the day is coming when they will begin rejoicing like captives being set free.

But, keep in mind that the final battle for humanity does not end this month. It becomes far more interesting and exciting!

Light also signifies glory, and we know that the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of Yahweh's glory, as the waters are covering over the sea (Habakkuk 2:14). This will be done through the Anointed Body of Christ in union with their Anointed Head. The world is about to see a oneness in a people that it has never seen on this scale. One Head, one Body, one Lord, one Spirit, one Father. No more separation of any kind; only oneness!

One final thought: In our area, the last day to observe the moon before it went dark was on September 5. We took our usual pre-dawn walk on this day, all along searching for the moon. We thought we had missed it until it appeared right in front of us, looking unusually large. It was an orangish sliver that looked like a smiley face. We laughed and rejoiced—the moon was smiling at us. The heavens are telling of the glory of the Lord! Good news is coming.
