Kneading of Red, White, Blue Loaf (Dream)

I have been meditating on this dream since it first came to me in 2020. Now is the right time to report it. For the interpretation, as noted below, I've had some help from a brother in Christ.

On September 20, 2020, I dreamt:

I was crossing a street and a man came across in the other direction and he threw two bottles at me; one was brown and the other was clear glass. They didn't touch me. Then he came up to me to do me harm; I simply pushed on his chest and he fell to the ground. When I looked down, there was a loaf of bread (or: pound cake); it was decorated with red, white, and blue icing. I then stuck my hand into it and began kneading it like you would do to bread before you let the leaven rise and put it in an oven.

How are we to interpret this dream? There are three components to consider: the conflict, the kneading, and the colors.

The Conflict

The man signifies conflict of some sort. Conflict (riots) in the streets? Representatively<sup>1</sup>, I stood for the right direction. The bottles resembled beer bottles. Drunkenness. Speaks of those who will not inherit (enter into) the kingdom. (Could also speak of Isaiah 24:20 – the earth teeters to and fro like a drunkard.)

Or do you not know that the unrighteous will not inherit the kingdom of God? Do not be deceived; neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor homosexuals, nor thieves, nor the covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor swindlers, will inherit the kingdom of God. (1 Corinthians 6:9-10 NASB)

Representatively, I had authority over the situation and took action. Nothing stopped me or hurt me! Why? I held the ***key of the kingdom, the key of truth and life***, to shut and open

<sup>1</sup> The word representatively is used to emphasize the dream is not about me, per se, even though, on a personal level, in part, it has to do with my calling. This is an encouragement for the Lord's people to lay hold of the authority of the Lord Jesus, which means laying hold of Jesus as truth and life.

doors based on the delegated authority from the one who holds all authority in heaven and on earth.<sup>2</sup>

And Jesus came up and spoke to them, saying, “All authority has been given to Me in heaven and on earth.” (Matthew 28:18 NASB)

A brother has offered this addition:

You were crossing a street: Traffic and pedestrians are a mix of directional movement, but with you, your life is headed for the Kingdom, yet a man came across opposite (or opposed) to the Kingdom. He threw 2 bottles at you but missed. The bottles were of the color that the majority of liquor is sold in; brown for beer, and clear for hard alcohol. See Matthew 24:45-51 about the faithful servant and the drunkards.

This man is (or was) a believer, and he had decided beforehand to follow Jesus and he had crossed the street, but when things didn't happen the way he had been told, or in the way he thought that it should happen, he gave up waiting for the Lord and began to drink and hang out with the 'heathen'. When he saw you, he knew where you were going and he despised you because he now despised everything about his former faith, and he was returning to the 'worldly ways'. (The 'falling away' that Paul said must come first). When he came close and you pushed him in the chest (where his true heart is), he immediately fell down because he now doesn't have the heart to wait for the Lord and he cannot harm those close to the Lord.

Thus, the conflict of our day is leading to the presence of our Lord and King Jesus. There is and will be opposition to the glorious day that is coming.

The Kneading

Bread is probably as ancient as mankind and society are. Obviously, in ancient days, the process was all done by hand, not by the machinery we have today. There were no short-cuts or easy ways to do it. Kneading the dough by hand, one had to be patient and have strength to keep at it. The actual quality of the bread was not only based on its ingredients but also on the environment in which it was processed. The same applies today, however.

In the dream, the loaf was either a loaf of bread or a pound cake that had already been through the process to make it a finished product. The kneading of the finished loaf implies mixing up its existing ingredients (or: makeup). Carrying the interpretation to the limits, the loaf no longer was a loaf, for even its outline or boundaries were changed. However, the dream did not reveal its new shape or boundaries. We are left wondering what it will look like. Could some new ingredients have been added to the kneading process? Don't know for sure, but there is one possibility.

Since I was doing the kneading and also held the key of truth and life, perhaps, it (the nation) was being kneaded with truth and life. This would line up with the great need of this hour. America needs to be leavened with truth and life—two ingredients that have been lost or have grown stale in the loaf—in preparation for the Kingdom of the Heavens to come upon it.

He spoke another parable to them, "The kingdom of the heavens is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three pecks of flour until it was all leavened." (Matthew 13:33)

Is leaven a good thing or a bad thing in this parable? Leaven can be viewed as corruption; but when it comes to making bread, the leaven produces a tasty product. Is not the kingdom tasty? Taste and see that the Lord is good (Psalm 34:8)!

If the dream implies corruption, is the corruption going to start rising in greater measure? Does this imply judgment? For sure, it does. The fire of God must come upon the nation to remove the corruption (leaven) and purify it for the Kingdom of God!

Perhaps, the message is two-fold, both bad and good. The corruption must rise up until God's fire comes to remove all the chaff, leading to America being led by the sons of God to become a bastion of truth and life in the Kingdom of God.

The Colors

Clearly, the colors red, white, and blue represent America. Mixing the three colors yields a new single color that is now dispersed throughout the main ingredients of the loaf. But what could this new color be?

A brother adds the following, although, by his admission, the first part is speculation.

I read your reply, and right away I wondered what color comes if you mix the red, white, and blue evenly. RGB blue is 240, white is all color, which I assumed is 360, and red is 0. But the red is really almost Cardinal, so it would be above the 0*, the blue is deeper than 240*, and the white is constant at 360*. So, 240*+15* for midnight blue is 255*; 0* plus 15* for cardinal red is 15*; plus 360* for white. Add them  $360+255+15=630$ . Divide by 3 colors in the mix = 210. Of course, this is suppositional! But...mixing red, white, and blue should come out to be very close to Azure.

When he (the drunk) fell and you looked down, you saw the red, white, and blue covered pound cake. It was 'covered' in these colors because the ideals of our nation are actually only surface deep. ... America has been a mix of the worldly with the Spiritual since its beginning, and the loaf you saw represents this. You mixed it, because this is where America is headed. All the 3 colors representing things that cannot be humanly attained, were being mixed by you, and these colors would end up as 210 Azure, after the time of mixing, or distress. ... You mixing that cake and its colors represents the final act of the USA! It will come out of all this a different entity, a different name, and possibly geographical makeup; a people ready to serve and follow! End.

In a color chart, azure is coded as  $210^3$ , which is a significant biblical number.<sup>4</sup> Interestingly, the color I chose some years ago to highlight links in my writings turns out to be hex #0070C0, which represents a particular shade of the color azure<sup>5</sup>. Also, take note of the number 7 (i.e., symbolic of spiritual perfection or completion) appearing in the code. I did not realize all of this until writing this insight. Has this been a sign set before me all these years without me even knowing it? Perhaps so!

As I was writing this, another brother brought to my attention something I had not recently considered. George Washington, America's first president, had three visions regarding what many believe to represent three mighty struggles our nation would go through in its history. Most believe that the first two (War of Independence and Civil War) have passed.<sup>6</sup> The third one is considered yet future and the final and most perilous battle America will face.

By the way; I first heard from the Lord about the future of America and then years later I learned of Washington's visions. So, I can testify that I was not influenced by his visions in what I have reported. Obviously, there is a strong correlation between the third vision and what I have reported.

<sup>5</sup> Searching online for the color azure reveals that there are several shades to it; thus, the difference between the extensions FFF and 0C0. Some call it the color of blue sky.

<sup>6</sup> As a sidenote of interest, on June 18, 1812, Madison signed a declaration of war against Britain. The War of 1812 lasted until 1815. 2022 is the 210th anniversary of the start of this battle.

Here is Washington's third vision and the interpretation by the "narrator" who recorded it—the third peril America will face.

Third and Most Fearful Peril

"Again, I heard the mysterious voice saying, 'Son of the Republic look and learn.' At this the dark, shadowy angel placed a trumpet to his mouth, and blew three distinct blasts; and taking water from the ocean, he sprinkled it upon Europe, Asia and Africa. Then my eyes beheld a fearful scene. From each of these continents arose thick black clouds that were soon joined into one. And throughout this mass there gleamed a dark red light by which I saw hordes of armed men. These men, moving with the cloud, marched by land and sailed by sea to America, which country was enveloped in the volume of cloud. And I dimly saw these vast armies devastate the whole country and the villages, towns and cities which I had seen springing up."

"As my ears listened to the thundering of the cannon, clashing of the swords, and the shouts and cries of millions in mortal combat, I again heard the mysterious voice saying, 'Son of the Republic, look and learn.' Where the voice had ceased, the dark shadowy angel placed his trumpet once more to his mouth, and blew a long and fearful blast."

Heaven Intervenes

"Instantly a light as of a thousand suns shone down from above me and pierced and broke into fragments the dark cloud which enveloped America. At the same moment the angel upon whose head still shown the word UNION, and who bore our national flag in one hand, and a sword in the other, descended from the heavens attended by legions of white spirits. These immediately joined the inhabitants of America, who I perceived were well-nigh overcome, but who immediately taking courage again, closed up their broken ranks and renewed the battle."

"Again, amid the fearful noise of the conflict I heard the mysterious voice saying, 'Son of the Republic, look and learn.' As the voice ceased the shadowy angel for the last time dipped water from the ocean and sprinkled it upon America. Instantly the dark cloud rolled back, together with the armies it had brought, leaving the inhabitants of the land victorious."

"Then once more, I beheld the villages, towns and cities springing up where I had seen them before, while the bright angel, planting the azure standard he had brought in the midst of them, cried with the loud voice: 'While the stars remain, and the heaven send down dew upon the earth, so long shall the UNION last.’ And taking from his brow the crown on which blazoned the word ‘UNION,’ he placed it upon the Standard while the people, kneeling down, said ‘Amen.’”

The Interpretation

The scene instantly began to fade and dissolve, and I, at last saw nothing but the rising, curling vapor I at first beheld. This also disappeared, and I found myself once more gazing upon the mysterious visitor, who, in the same voice I had heard before, said, ‘Son of the Republic, what you have seen is thus interpreted: Three great perils will come upon the Republic. The most fearful for her is the third. But the whole world united shall not prevail against her. Let every child of the Republic learn to live for his God, his land, and UNION.’ With these words the vision vanished, and I started from my seat and felt that I had seen a vision wherein had been shown me the birth, the progress, and the destiny of the United States.”

“Such, my friends,” the venerable narrator concluded, “were the words I heard from Washington’s own lips, and America will do well to profit by them.” [end of record]

Take note that the standard being raised up was azure in color. Could we ask for a clearer connection to the dream than this? The brother quoted earlier adds this: The people of the final UNION were dedicated to the Lord and they were then canopied by the color of heaven itself and that heaven had come to join itself to earth with the presence of the Sons of God in a reigning spiritual authority.

Finally, although the visions referred to the Republic, if America enters the Kingdom of God in an open and living way following this last peril, I do not believe it will be a republic<sup>7</sup>. God has something much better in store, not only for America but, ultimately, for all nations that enter into the Kingdom of God’s Son. However, one concept will not only remain but will also rise up in glory—it is Union. To use Jesus’ terminology in His prayer to His Father in John 17, America will be One!

I believe the boundaries of this new Kingdom Union will be quite different than from today. Since King Jesus’ kingdom will have no bounds (open to all frontiers), there probably won’t even be any more arbitrary boundaries<sup>8</sup> as all the nations are brought into the boundless, borderless, infinite, United Kingdom of the Christ.

<sup>7</sup> Throughout history, all republic forms of government have failed, just as the US republic is now failing.
